MR. PACKARD, the photographer, will positively close his gallery here in less than a week. See his bills.

MARRIED.—At Crab Orchard, on Wednesday morning, Mr. George Chandler to Miss Sarah Lindsay, daughter of Mr. O. P. Lindsay.

We have never seen northern ice in this section, superior to that sold by Mr. Harmon here, and which was gathered from his spring-fed lake.

SPEAKING.—HIS M. J. Durham will address the citizens of Crab Orchard, tomorrow (10th) at 2 o'clock P. M. Let all the people hear him.

DON'T forget that on next Monday Mr. Creary and Harlan will address the people of Lincoln county at the Court House here. Give them a large audience.

BORN.—On Friday last, to the wife of the former editor of this paper, Mr. F. J. Campbell, a 13 lb. boy—Stimela Hughes. The boy is nearly as large as his father already.

We will give a years subscription to our paper for the largest and best Water Melon delivered between now and the 10th of September. Of course we are to be the Judge.

DURING the thunder storm on Tuesday evening last, the telegraph instrument at Crab Orchard was so injured by the lightning that it had to be replaced by a new one.

A MAN living near the foot of Mason's Gap, in this county, killed a "chicken snake" the other day, six feet three inches long. It had a chicken as large as a partridge "under its belt."

THE new addition to the cemetery here, with the new Sexton's cottage, make the place more attractive as a burial ground, and shows that our people have a proper respect for their lost loved ones.

THE traveling public need feel no concern about a conveyance when they reach Crab Orchard Springs. "Squire A. Carson is always on hand with his carriage and will serve you in the best of style."

STOLEN.—On stolen from John H. Craig, about May 1st, one Roan Cow, about four years old; horns set up about four inches long; very thin when she left. A liberal reward will be paid on her delivery to me.

WE learn that the late frost in Logan's creek and Dix River did considerable damage along the line of these streams.—Hundreds of pounds of fence, water-gates, etc., were washed away, never to be returned.

CALL at the Pendleton House next Monday (County Court day) and get your dinner. Notwithstanding the fact that money is scarce, Pendleton & Phelan have never failed to satisfy all in regard to something good to eat.

"SQUIRE MURPHY's new residence on the Danville pike is rapidly approaching completion, and when completed it will be the most desirable one in our vicinity owing to its advantages of situation, shade trees and delightful breezes."

MR. R. H. C. BISH has been unfortunate lately. First, in attempting to get on the cars here he missed his footing, slipped and sprained his ankle, which put him on crutches. Then when this was nearly well his horse injured his left arm severely, which gives him a good deal of pain. With him as with all of us, "disasters come not single."

THIRN.—In Stanford, on Sunday night last, after a long illness of paralysis, Mrs. Julia, wife of Milton Myers, died. Her remains were buried at the family burying ground in Boyle county, and her funeral will be preached at Providence church, Sunday in August.

THE friends of Mrs. Wayne Hoskins, nee Miss Julia Davis, of Campbellville, Kentucky, will be sorry to learn that her eldest son, Arnel, a bright little boy, died the other day, of Diphtheria, and that another one of her children is afflicted with the same terrible scourge.

THREE COONS.—Yes, three coons up one tree, and Mr. Bunn says his dog tried them about dark the other night and stood guard at the foot of the tree until day-dawn the next morning, and then he went out with his "trusty rifle" and killed the lot, all of them being of the male persuasion and very fat and large.

A PISTOL in the hands of one of our young men in town, who was making the necessary preparations to meet an attack by the great bank robbers, if they should come, was accidentally discharged the other day. The only damage done was a hole in the ceiling. Glad it was no worse. Be careful how you handle fire arms.

JOHN'S OATS, a very clever Irishman, having taken too much liquor the evening previous, undertook to walk out of a second story window at the Carpenter House on Monday night last. He fell about sixteen feet, cut his foot on some glass, which bled profusely, and was also knocked senseless and remained speechless for some hours.

MR. JONES, where do you find such fat and tender lamb chops as those you had for breakfast? "I got them from Mr. Bush, the City Butcher. He always has the best."
